

Never

Isaac Carree

If I'm being honest I would have to say that I ain't never seen nothing like this.

I would even go as far as sayin that no matter that you look, you ain't gon find it.

No word or description is enough to put it in perspective. Just one minute with you and I know just what the best is.

Some might try, but they won't come close to. And I'm feeling like a boss every day cause I know you.

You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.

Never been in love the way that'll change your life. Ain't nothing better, never, it can't be done.

No, never, there's only one, yeah. You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.

Now I've been through enough to know and I sure have been frustrated.

And I done made my share of mistakes but because of him, that shame just faded.

And it's funny how I thought I had it figured out and I barely scratched the surface.

And looking back over my life, everything I've been through has all been worth it.

Some might try, but they won't come close to. And I'm feeling like a boss every day cause I know you.

You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.

Never been in love the way that'll change your life. Ain't nothing better, never, it can't be done.

No, never, there's only one, yeah. You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.

And if all I knew was true love, but then I realized what it was.

And then it took myself, I really needed help. And that's, that's when true life began.

You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.

Never been in love the way that'll change your life. Ain't nothing better, never, it can't be done.

No, never, there's only one, yeah. You might have had good, might have even been great, but I promise you'll never.
