

You still talk about it like it meant nothing at all
Strung out on the precipice waiting to fall
Dead on the sofa at four in the morning
Tryna forget all the things that you read
Wish I could reach out and open the door
'Cause I can't bear to live in this hole that you dug in my head

But every time I go outside

That's when I slide
Till the walls come down
Am I losing my mind
Or am I coming around
Now I'm so tired of these characters
Faces I'm making
I'll play the part but just know that I'm breaking inside
That's when I slide

Let the mask slip while I'm up on the stage
Caught my licks, lip split now I'm stuck in your cage
Nowhere to turn I got lost in the moment
Tired of sharing the same cigarette
Sooner or later you feel so alone
Like you're walking through memories you know that you'll live to for get

'Cause every time I close my eyes

That's when I slide
Till the walls come down
Am I losing my mind
Am I coming around
'Cause I'm so sick of this story
Just finish it for me
Don't care if you love, hate, adore or ignore me
I'm tired of these characters
Faces I'm making
I'll play the role but just know that I'm breaking inside
That's when I slide
That's when I slide

'Cause I'm so sick of this story
Just finish it for me
Don't care if you love, hate, adore or ignore me
I'm tired of these characters
Faces I'm making
I'll play the role but just know that I'm breaking inside
That's when I slide
