

Roommates

Isac Elliot

Waking up alone
I guess this how it goes
That's a start, we drift apart
Then the next thing you know

You're barely holding on
And you don't know what is wrong
You're tired of sleeping back to back
You miss the feeling that you had

Are we, are we, are we lovers or are we roommates?
Are we are riding our own waves?
Now the only thing that we share is the toothpaste
Are we lovers or roommates?
Are we, are we, are we lovers or are we roommates?
Are we waiting for it to break?
Now the only thing that we share is the toothpaste
Are we lovers or roommates?

Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates now?
Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates?

Waking up alone
I guess Flight Mode is on
'Cause now we talk just like we are 30,000 feet apart

We were so busy changing
We forgot just how amazing
We had it, did we take it all for granted?

Are we, are we, are we lovers or are we roommates?
Are we are riding our own waves?
Now the only thing that we share is the toothpaste
Are we lovers or roommates?
Are we, are we, are we lovers or are we roommates?
Are we waiting for it to break?
Now the only thing that we share is the toothpaste
Are we lovers or roommates?

Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates now?
Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates?

Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates now?
Tell me, girl, if it's too late
Are we lovers or roommates?
