

Desperate Guy

Isak Danielson

If I'm your mistake, please make it twice
I'm just a fool, who loves you for miles
If it would end I'd be the ghost
Of the person you said that you wanted the most

I never pretend when I'm with you
How can a love, so sweet and so pure
Cut me so deep, causing me pain
But I'd do it over, and over again

I feel the rain on my skin
Now I know what they mean
It could leave with the wind
If I'm not what you need

I'll stay here
Stay here
So you know where to meet
Just look for a desperate guy on your street

I hope that we, we never change
Just you and me, on a rainy Monday
Until we get old, until we let go
I think we knew all we needed to know

I feel the rain on my skin
Now I know what they mean
It could leave with the wind
If I'm not what you need

I'll stay here
Stay here
So you know where to meet
Just look for a desperate guy on your street

If only I could go back in time
I would tell you, that you are my man
If I'm to late, I wish that you knew
Don't think I'll ever find someone like you
