

I Don't Need Your Love

Isak Danielson

I no longer feel alone and drink through the night
I no longer lie awake and hurt my anxious mind
I used to cut my hair to make you like me more
I used to change my ways but you would just ignore

I don't need your love
Whatever you say I will stand above
I finally feel like I've had enough
And now I'm moving on
I can feel my heart beating all through the saddest parts
I've made up my mind
I've had enough
And now I'm moving on

You won't get another chance
Your words cut like a knife
You left me broken, cast aside
Time after time
Won't waste another night
Because I know I'll be alright

I don't need your love
Whatever you say I will stand above
I finally feel like I've had enough
And now I'm moving on
I can feel my heart beating all through the saddest parts
I've made up my mind
I've had enough
And now I'm moving on

I'm done trying to make you want me
I'm done trying to make you care
There is nothing here to hold on to
I have no more time to spare

I don't need your love
Whatever you say I will stand above
I finally feel like I've had enough
And now I'm moving on
I can feel my heart beating all through the saddest parts
I've made up my mind
I've had enough
And now I'm moving on

I'm moving on
I'm moving on
Now I am moving on
I'm moving on
