

Start Again

Isak Danielson

I know this time is all I have and it's leaving so fast
Makes it hard for me to find things to believe in and things that last

I didn't want to fall apart but I have
I really don't wanna loose you but I think I am

So can we lighten up and dry the rain
Can we ever really start again

I wanna hold you at the break of everyday
And I've never been so scared to say

Please don't turn away from me, turn away from me
Hey, cause I don't wanna loose you

Turn away from me, turn away from me
Hey, cause I can't live without you

You said it's not the things I do it's what I didn't do and you mean that You say you can't buy me affection like a possession and then steal it back and I know

But little by little all these things start building up
Is it to late now to change it, to late to keep your love

I can brighten up and dry the rain
Can we pick it up and start again

I wanna hold you at the break of everyday
And I've never been so scared to say

Please don't turn away from me, turn away from me
Hey, cause I don't wanna loose you

Turn away from me, turn away from me
Hey, cause I can't live without you

It's hard to explain why I'm distant again
But I need you to trust me I'll change

There'll be fireworks and bon fires and walks in the rain
And we'll shelter each other from pain
Ooh from the pain

I can brighten up and dry the rain
Can we pick it up and start again

If I can brighten up and dry the rain
Can we pick it up and start again

I wanna hold you at the break of everyday
And I've never been so scared to say

Please don't turn away from me, turn away from me
Hey, cause I don't wanna loose you

Turn away from me, turn away from me

Hey, cause I can't live without you

Hey, cause I can't live without you

Hey, cause I can't live without you

Hey, cause I can't live without you

Hey
