

Final Journey

Isengard

See your handbuilt ships burn away
Fire cleft the skies like dragon flame
See a friend of Thor sail away
Look into the mist, look into the sky
Now it's win or lose, it's live or die
See a friend of Thor praise the skies

As winter past the flaming sky
Our strength will carry us to hights
See the raven fly far away
The skies were so dark, the winds were so cold
Our banners will rise in rage we will go
See a friend of Thor sail away

Stand in front of your destiny
Stand in front of your life

The sun sets forever the gods set me free
I'll share with you eternity
You can open your eyes
And let yourself be
The land of Valhalla
The land of the free

The journey is far to desolate seas
A learning in life, wait you will see
And let the stars guide you home
A black dawn is fading in wispering tunes
See the edge of the world, the shades of the moon
See a freind of Thor praise the sky

We sail across the seas
The winds will take us home
A distant summer breeze
Will calm the storm
As thunder breaks the sky
The air fills our sails
Our dragonships will fly
Over the oceans wail
