

Future Nostalgia

Islander

Regret has filled my thoughts again
The wounds of yesterday are opening
And it makes me remember

It makes me remember
It makes me remember

We ran so far
To get nowhere at all
Everything has changed
And somehow stayed the same

It makes me remember
It makes me remember

It's nights like these
When I make a fool of myself
It's nights like these
When my head is full of nothing
Spaceships and trains
And other means of transportation
Could never take you where I've been

So many things have changed
And so many things have stayed the same

I miss my inspiration
To keep my pen to the paper
I miss the friends I had back then
I miss the nights that were ours
When we all sang the same songs
When further still seemed like forever
The days were short the nights were long

We were all together
We were all together

I never took the time to realize
I never took the time to realize

It's nights like these
When I make a fool of myself
It's nights like these
When my head is full of nothing
Spaceships and trains
And other means of transportation
Could never take you where I've been

I never took the time to realize
Never took the time

Are you ever disappointed
The future is not how you planned?
With flying cars, shooting stars
And nourishment in capsule form
Are you ever disappointed
The future is not how you planned?

With flying cars, shooting stars
And nourishment in capsule form
With no taste at all...

I miss the times
When we all sang the same songs
We all sang the same songs
I miss the times
When we all sang the same songs
We all sang the same songs
The same songs...

We were all together
We were all together
