Islander

In the trees
Children's fingers on strings
Jars of blood from a heart
And demon knees
Beneath the house
Under the boards
Blood and ink and wedding rings

She has secrets
Never whispered
She has secrets
Never heard

And when she smiles
It just takes me places
In her eyes
The whole world
Starts to make sense
Candle wax

A mystery
Can't believe what I see
Be careful what you say
She's listening
In the moonlight
She chants her song
And now we all have to sing along

She has secrets
Never whispered
She has secrets
Never heard

And when she smiles
It just takes me places
In her eyes
The whole world
It starts to make sense
Candle wax

Heart attacks
She'll rip us to pieces
She'll make her brew
...

And when she smiles
It just takes me places
In her eyes
The whole world
It starts to make sense
And when she smiles
I can't see her in the dark
As she pulls my limbs apart
And takes me places
