

All Over Me

Isyana Sarasvati

The morning sunshine waking up the first thing I see
Your lovely eyes
Staring straight at me

Stroke your cheek so softly as I kiss you gently...
You hold my hands
Smile at me...

Every piece of you, completes my heart
Nothing as I need is your all mine

Everytime I close my eyes it's
All over me
Yeah all over me
Your love
Everytime yes I am alive it's
All over me

Yeah all over me
Your love
I take a stroll of you across the endless shoreline
We watch the lights
Go down in peace

The water glisten showing of our own reflection
I look at yours, you look at mine

Every piece of you, completes my heart...
Nothing as I need is your all mine...
Everytime I close my eyes it's
All over me
Yeah all over me

Your love
Everytime yes I am alive it's
All over me
Yeah all over me
No time to think to live to waste to wait for love
No time to think to live to waste to wait for love
No time to think to live to waste to wait for love
I realize this world is just my own creation
Is this real
A homey rush...
I'm kissing you right here when now much from a distance
You walk away.
We meet again.
