

Lights

It Bites

Getting myself into this was never easy Giving myself up to you is no reward Does it all begin with something new? Falling into something you can't see

Chorus: The lights go out at night I feel a space between us The lights go out at night, I feel that I'm alone So let's go out tonight, I feel the space between us As we stare into the sun

Getting myself into this and into your heart Leading myself into view, I try to fall Does it all begin with something new? Falling into something you can't feel (I know something, you know something, we know something)

(Chorus)

Lights have gone down as you're fading from view Secretly I fall apart For I am the one who will be strung along Tied into your heart

Does it all begin with something new? Falling into something you can't feel (I know something, you know something, we know something)

(Chorus)
