Strange But True

It Bites

Look at my watch it's nearly half past hour
I feel, I sense that you are gone
Check out the hypocrits rolling on the floor
They've seen and heard it all before

Now I'm on my own - I don't know
Just thought that I'd drop you a line
Before the blade action is twisted

Strange but true
I just won't get next to you
You're my lover everybody knows you are

I close my eyes but still your face is there
Cold days, cold nights, I cry, I swear
And still the hypocrits revel in my blues
You'll see, I'll win, I never loose

Now I'm on my own - I don't know

Just thought that I'd drop you a line
Before the blade action is twisted

Strange but true
I just won't get next to you
You're my lover everybody knows you are
It's another day and I've to face all my yesterdays
And without you it's not the same
I've got trouble with my money
But with you I'm on the bread line

Strange but true
I just won't get next to you
You're my lover everybody knows you are

Strange but true
I just won't get next to you
You're my lover everybody knows you are
