It's Definitely Be Great, Hopefully

Itchy Poopzkid

Hey there baby, put your best shoes on
We'll be dancing, dancing to the break of dawn
Even the bouncer smiles no need to start a fight
I am on the guest list every single night
And these are the words I carefully planned on saying
But there is no human being next to the Xbox I'm playing
I get up - there's no one on the phone
I get down - all by myself home alone

I need someone around
I need someone to praise
But no one ever stays
I need someone that I
Can easily amaze
But no one ever stays
And time is what I waste
When all I need is company
But no one ever stays

VIPs. vintage booze, 25 BMWs
Like Tiger Woods cheating on his wife
Like Michael Jackson back alive
But this room is the only friend of mine
24/7 extra time
No girl to show, no wheel to steer
So every time I'm ending up in here
I'm always ending up in here
Except for me there's no one here

I need someone around
I need someone to praise
But no one ever stays
I need someone that I
Can easily amaze
But no one ever stays
And time is what I waste
When all I need is company
But no one ever stays

Every night in my sleep I get up from my throne
And I wave to the crowd, I am never alone
Everyone cheers me on I can see in their faces
They're almost as thrilled as the king of the place is
But when the night ends it is slowly occurring to me
That this might not be real that I might only see How I desperately want my life finally to be
And I'm waking up all by myself
I am waking up all by myself

I need someone around
I need someone that I
Can easily amaze
I need someone around

But no one ever stays
And time is what I waste
