

Headlights

Itchyworms

If you bite off your head
You're biting off more than your head can chew
If you look at the sky
You'll see it staring right back at you
The world is a mirror filled with everything you do
So be lost or be gone
Never leave your headlights on
You're alone but now you're not the only
One, two, three, four

You're up on the roof
You jump but never ever leave the ground
You fall on your hands and knees
So loud but you don't make no sound
The windows are open and you swallow every drop of rain
So get out, out the door
You don't even know what for
With the headlights on you turn it off like before
Four, three, two, one

One, two, three, four
You're up on the roof
You jump but never ever leave the ground
You fall on your hands and knees
So loud but you don't make no sound

The windows are open and you swallow every drop of rain
So be lost or be gone
Never leave your headlights on
You're alone but now you're not the only

One, two, three, four
Four, three, two, one
