Monday, better day

A day that makes my heart rush like the first time

Sunday, better day

A day when I think about you all day

I get greedy, wanting our relationship to get a bit closer

Just one step, that much closer

My monologues, my whispers
You might be curious too

It's because I like you
Even though I have on a cold face
My heart isn't like that, it's a lie
But foolish you makes me frustrated

It's because I like you so much
Even though I have an indifferent face
I wait again and wonder what I should do
And at the end of the day, I say
I love you

One day, Holiday
A day that I really don't want to be by myself
One day, cloudy day
A day where the sky is gray as if it's about to cry

Tears come,
Tears resembling my sad heart come
My heart that I've held back is
Flowing down all over the sky, all over the world
It's not just because I'm sad

It's because I like you
Even though I have on a cold face
My heart isn't like that, it's a lie
But foolish you makes me frustrated

It's because I like you so much
Even though I have an indifferent face
I wait again and wonder what I should do
And at the end of the day, I say
I love you

My lips tell lies but
My eyes tell the words I really want to say
The words hidden inside my heart

It's because I like you a lot
Turn around and look at my slow paced footsteps
This is my heart that's waiting for you
If you've watched over me, you would know

It's because I don't know
Tell me so that I can hear your heart
I think it can work if you hold out your hand
But if the reason you hesitate is the same as mine
Please come to me now
