Outside the window, rain is falling
And my heart feels sad for no reason
I can't comfort my heart
On this sleepless night

I don't want to listen to a sad song

Because then the sleeping you in my heart
Will come to me again
I don't think I can sleep through this long night
When the rain falls outside the window
I lean and sit against the windowsill
Playing the guitar and singing
The song you used to like

Outside the window, rain is falling
And my heart feels sad for no reason
I can't comfort my heart
On this sleepless night

Now in my faded memories
You are getting farther away
Only your sad smile remains in my heart
As it fills me up and flows
On a night where it rains like this
You make me even sadder
The song you used to like
It still remains in my ears

On a night where it rains like this
My tired longing goes to you
After the rain stops
I will go looking for you

I close my eyes and try to sleep
But I can only hear the sound of the rain
My heart is drenched at the sound of the rain
On this sleepless night

Now in my faded memories
You are getting farther away
Only your sad smile remains in my heart
As it fills me up and flows
On a night where it rains like this
You make me even sadder
The song you used to like
It still remains in my ears

On a night where it rains like this
My tired longing goes to you
After the rain stops
I will go looking for you

On a night where it rains like this
My tired longing goes to you
After the rain stops
I will go looking for you
