

My Juliana

I promise that I'll never come back
When the sky hides the sun
You'll never see my heart on a string
With your broken ring

Sitting on the corner
Waiting to discover
If your eyes would see my broken heart
My self-esteem is fading
Mind and soul forsaking
All the darkness that invades within

I, I don't believe
What everybody tells me what I'm supposed to be
I, I just can't see
The reason why you should be lying next to me

My Juliana

I promise that I'll never come back
When the sky hides the sun
You'll never see my heart on a string
With your broken ring

Call me when it's over
Deal with this together
Teach me how to mend a broken heart
Be with me forever
In this stormy weather
Tell me and I'll wish upon a star

I, I don't believe
What everybody tells me what I'm supposed to be
I, I just can't see
The reason why you should be lying next to me

My Juliana

I promise that I'll never come back
When the sky hides the sun
You'll never see my heart on a string
With your broken ring

My Juliana

Oh every song is harder to sing
When my voice starts to fade
I'll never see your heart on a string
With my broken wing
