

Remind Me I'm Alive

Ivoryline

Did you think you were made for all the things
That felt like a waste
Or has everything led you to be
What you have never foreseen

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

This Seattle life, it has changed me from the inside
Changed me from the inside
It has magnified all my cries
For something more than fine

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive
Remind me I'm alive
Remind me I'm alive
Remind me I'm alive

Now we see that everything we have
And everything we lack
Is exactly what we need
Every single day
Everything we've made
Has put us in this place in just this way

Everything I see reminds me
Of just how beautiful you can be
I'm waiting for a feeling
That would make love open my eyes
Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive
Remind me I'm alive
