Remind Me I'm Alive

Did you think you were made for all the things That felt like a waste Or has everything led you to be What you have never foreseen

Everything I see reminds me Of just how beautiful you can be I'm waiting for a feeling That would make love open my eyes Remind me I'm alive

This Seattle life, it has changed me from the inside Changed me from the inside It has magnified all my cries For something more than fine

Everything I see reminds me Of just how beautiful you can be I'm waiting for a feeling That would make love open my eyes Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive

Now we see that everything we have And everything we lack Is exactly what we need Every single day Everything we've made Has put us in this place in just this way

Everything I see reminds me Of just how beautiful you can be I'm waiting for a feeling That would make love open my eyes Remind me I'm alive

Remind me I'm alive Remind me I'm alive
