Can't wake up
I can't feel a thing
The night's so rough
So what does it mean?
Time goes by
And comes round again
All my life
I've learned to pretend

Lost in the sun

Lost in the sun

And I could be anywhere

And I could be everywhere

Lost in the sun

Lost in the sun

Light fills my mind and I feel so enlightened, so enlightened

Morning comes, shines like a dream Tried to run, scape everything City's sky is always a flame In my mind I want the same

Lost in the sun

Lost in the sun

And I could be anywhere

And I could be everywhere

Lost in the sun

Lost in the sun

Light fills my mind and I feel so enlightened, so enlightened
