

The Conversation

Ivy

Look what you've done to the one that you love
All of the time
What were you thinking of

Look what you are
Look at what you've become
How could we have known
Where could we have come

In the middle of the conversation
You close your eyes and drift away
Where are you now
Where are you now
Can I come with you someday

Wait to escape till the moment arrives
How does it feel when you break all the ties
Don't say a word but the message is clear
There's nothing left for you around here

In the middle of the conversation
You close your eyes and drift away
Where are you now
Where are you now
Can I come with you someday

Where are you now
Where are you now
Can I come with you someday

Where are you now
Where are you now
Can I come with you someday
