

Fourteen Forty

J. Holiday

If I had fourteen forty
I would spend it till we're out of time
I'd run down the meter
Till I'm staring at my last dime

Cause every second belongs to you
I won't let a minute linger
If all I had was fourteen forty
I would give you mine

I'mma give this whole day
Cause I'm on borrowed time anyway
And my life expectancy
Said I should be long gone

So from the moment that your eyes open
I want them on me
I feel the world freeze
When I listen to you breathe

If I had fourteen forty
I would spend it till we're out of time
I'd run down the meter
Till I'm staring at my last dime

Cause every second belongs to you
I won't let a minute linger
If all I had was fourteen forty
I would give you mine

One four four zero (I would give you my)
One four four zero (I would give you mine)
One four four zero (I would give you my)
One four four zero (I would give you mine)

Make a minute feel like a day
Begin in April and end in May
Then the seasons start to change
Girl we've been loving so long

So from the moment that your eyes open
Until you fall asleep
Tilt almost 24°
Feels like I'm in a cosmic dream

If I had fourteen forty
I would spend it till we're out of time
I'd run down the meter
Till I'm staring at my last dime

Cause every second belongs to you
I won't let a minute linger
If all I had was fourteen forty
I would give you mine

One four four zero (I would give you my)
One four four zero (I would give you mine)

One four four zero (I would give you my)
One four four zero (I would give you mine)
