You don't have to find me if I'm lookin' for you
'Cause I'ma spin 'round there when there's nothing to do
Left everything red when I came out the blue
I'ma walk right by like I ain't got a clue
I'ma do me, you can do you, boo
I'm sick and tired of lying to you
And if I'm lookin' at you, it's from birds-eye-view
They wanna judge me from what they heard I do
It's a big conspiracy
Nah, nah, nah, it's not true
Had a black belt but it wasn't Kung-Fu
All you saw was LV when man withdrew

You never saw me in a suit, but I had a blazer
Anything I do, you know I do it major
He live two doors away from Anastasia
When we peppered that shit, you know he cannot stay here
Everybody look like a secret agent
So I say no to drugs like Ronald Reagan
Talking shit, you don't think first when you say things
He weren't the same when I bucked him on that occasion
There's no law, how can I be law abiding?
He's still deciding whether he's riding
The world is small so it's not hard to find him
Nothing in this dunya is satisfying
All these nigga's selling out, but nobody's buying
You can be a jungle lion or a circus lion
How you talk mad smoke and never banged an iron?
The guy he betrays is not the guy inside him

You don't have to find me if I'm lookin' for you
'Cause I'ma spin 'round there when there's nothing to do
Left everything red when I came out the blue
I'ma walk right by like I ain't got a clue
I'ma do me, you can do you, boo
I'm sick and tired of lying to you
And if I'm lookin' at you, it's from birds-eye-view
They wanna judge me from what they heard I do
It's a big conspiracy
Nah, nah, nah, it's not true
Had a black belt but it wasn't Kung-Fu
All you saw was LV when man withdrew

If he's a real nigga, then we makin' the lies
I didn't say a word, I talk with silence
You can't govern me, I show my defiance
Look deep in your soul if you're lookin' for guidance
They sent my nigga back to the Carib' Islands
What you been on? Me, I'm just surviving
I was out in the country, now I'm just arriving
I don't like Donny 'cause he's too conniving
But I don't watch Donny everyday, I'm striving
You don't like money, never seen you grinding
You know I'm so cruddy, let the lighting strike him

Ain't it so funny how it's perfect timing?
Sometimes motherfuckers need reminding
Ain't it crazy how karma can bite like Tyson?
Crazy how this road life is so enticing
Crazy how all the underdogs are rising

You don't have to find me if I'm lookin' for you
I'ma spin 'round there when there's nothing to do
Left everything red when I came out the blue
And I'ma walk right by like I ain't got a clue
I'ma do me, you can do you, boo
'Cause I'm sick and tired of lying to you
And if I'm lookin' at you, it's from birds-eye-view
They wanna judge me from what they heard I do
It's a big conspiracy
