

It's You

J Rice

Every song I hear sounds better
And everything I see looks better
Oh the way I feel just ain't the same when you're right here
So I better keep you near Cos I know I'll never find a miracle as good as you are
The way you love so unpredictable, wasn't on my radar
Until I realized that you were the only reason everything was beautiful to me

It's you, when I fall down and somehow get back up
It's you, when I'm all out and still I don't give up
It's you, when the clouds break and let the sun shine through
I know it's you

Every bite I take tastes better
And if I had to wait forever
Than I'll sit right here I wouldn't let go
I have no fear because I found you
And I know I'll never find a miracle as good as you are
The way you love so unpredictable, wasn't on my radar
Until I realized that you were the only reason everything was beautiful to me

It's you, when I fall down and somehow get back up
It's you, when I'm all out and still I don't give up
It's you, when the clouds break and let the sun shine through
I know it's you, when I fall down and somehow get back up
It's you, when I'm all out and still I don't give up
It's you, when the clouds break and let the sun shine through
I know it's you

When I'm just about to break
It's you, who gives me just enough strength
It's you, who never let me down
And if you ask me who I love

It's you, when I fall down and somehow get back up
It's you, when I'm all out and still I don't give up
It's you, when the clouds break and let the sun shine through
I know it's you, when I fall down and somehow get back up
It's you, when I'm all out and still I don't give up
It's you, when the clouds break and let the sun shine through
I know it's you
