Speak For Me

Jaci Velasquez

What have I to offer To a world in need Yet for some unknown reason You have chosen me Lord, You've set my journey You've prepared the way Still I'm desperate for the words to say All I am is willing All I have is in Your hands

Speak for me This my plea Say the words I can't express Sing for me A heavenly melody That the people would be blessed Speak for me

Every brief encounter That you send my way Is a chance to show the love You gave me I see their troubled faces A hunger deep inside Lord I depend on you to touch their lives Light what burns within me Let Your truth shine through my life

Speak for me This my plea Say the words I can't express Sing through me A heavenly melody That the people will be blessed Speak for me, sing for me, set me free And they will see your holiness Speak for me

'Cause your love will lead them on to heaven's gate Where they can look upon Your face Light what burns within me Let your truth shine through my life

You're all I have to offer To a world in need
