

WIND AND THE SEA

Jack Bruce

I found a place where all seasons meet
The earth and the sky are one with the sea
On a hill looking down to the sea
Gives visions of life as it truly should be

The air is so clean that the sun can shine brightly
My face is caressed by the breeze
It's the time of the day when I find it most likely
To go down and be by the sea

The thoughts I feel down by the sea
Your facing the wind as you stand next to me
My mind's adrift between the wind and the sea
Invisioning thoughts of pure ecstasy

With you here with me
Taking walks cross the pastures
For a very short time, yes I know
Yet I find when we walk
And our minds come together
It's as if we were never alone

To be at peace in a place such as this
The wind and the sea plays a large part of me
To be with you, near the wind and the sea
Concludes my thoughts in completely pure harmony
