

Don't Look Now

Jack Johnson

Come on, wake up
How late were you up?
Late enough to see the sun
I know that we're turnin'
But it feels like it's risin'
It doesn't really matter which one
To know that I feel things
Or feel like I know things
Or sing like no tomorrow comes
But it comes like a thief in the night
Look for what's left in the light
If you steal it, you're gonna have to deal
With the light when it's gone

Don't look now, but somehow we got shook up
Good luck, baby, we're only animals in love

With all that's around us
And all that's within us
All the numbers add up to one
But I can't find the one thing
Even though the one thing
Is choppin' down the tree that I'm on
I think I need reflection
I think I'm gettin' colder
I don't want to think anymore
But it comes again no matter if I sing or think about it
In the end, it begins again
All the way down

Well, don't look now, but somehow we got shook up
Good luck, baby, we're only animals in love
Don't look now, but somehow we got shook up
Good luck, baby, we're only animals in love
In love

Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh
Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh

Selfies in the shore break
Fake news with your cornflakes
Pick a number, take what you want
I want somethin' out of nothin'
I find it in the nowhere
I just want to narrow it down
I know that I feel things
I feel like I know things
But I feel like I can't find the one
But who can find the real thing
If every time the real thing
Is runnin' away, sayin' "Hey, now
We got your God"

Don't look now, but somehow we got shook up
Good luck, baby, we're only animals in love
Don't look now, but somehow we got shook up
And good luck, baby, we're only animals in love

In love

Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh
Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh
Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh
Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh
