

Meet The Moonlight

Jack Johnson

You can meet the moonlight any night you really wanna
It's waiting in your own backyard
You can make the flame meet the kindling, make the fire
Don't let anybody say it's too hard

It's funny how blind dreams can be
It seems like they look off too far
But it's good to be right here
It's good not to miss too many chances to follow love

You can meet the moonlight any night you really wanna
It's waiting in your own backyard
You can make the flame meet the kindling, make the fire
Don't let anybody say it's too hard

It's funny how blind dreams can be
It seems like they look off too far
But it's good to be right here
It's good not to miss too many chances to follow love
