Blow It

Jack Kays

I don't wanna be that guy
Says he's gon' make it
Lives at his mom's house
Doesn't do anything but complaining
Drinking and gaming
Letting the days go by
And he shows no signs
That he's changing
Remaining complacent
Doing the same thing over and over again
And he hates it every waking moment
Every chance he gets
He blows it

I've got a habit
And it keeps me sick
I can't kick it
I need one more hit
And I'm oh so tired of living like this
All my friends have jobs
I can't pay my rent

I'm an addict
I'm a liar
I'm a thief
And I've had it with the shit up to my knees
No matter how many times
I get caught in a lie
I'll keep digging that hole 'til I'm buried alive

I don't wanna be that guy
Says he's gon' make it
Doesn't do anything but complaining
Drinking and gaming
Letting the days go by
And he shows no signs
That he's changing
Remaining complacent
Doing the same thing over and over again
And he hates it every waking moment
Every chance he gets
He blows it

Ten years of my life worried about myself
Hardly ever cared for anybody else
Never held a job
No college degree
Can't keep lying to myself
'Cause I don't wanna be

I don't wanna be that guy

And he shows no signs
That he's changing
Every chance he gets
He blows it

Spend your whole life trying to make it
You almost had it all
Where did it all go wrong?
Where did it all go wrong?

I don't wanna be that guy
That he's changing
Remaining complacent
Doing the same thing over and over again
And he hates it every waking moment
Every chance he gets
He blows it

Every chance he gets
He blows it
