

So High

Jack River

Lover, I don't know how to tell you this, I am so sad
I have gone and done something, I feel so bad
It has got me, got me wishing I could turn it back
Waiting out the storm, I'm gonna stay up all night
Looking for the signs of surrender, hoping you're alright
Hoping you're alright, hoping you're alright

It was just as we were
So high, so high, so high
Me and you were so high
High, high, high

When you feel the darkness creeping under your door
Give me bridges, I will build them with my hands
I will stand out in the rain, people watching everywhere
I will build them through the pain

It was just as we were
So high, so high, so high
Me and you were so high
High, high, high
Me and you were so high
So high, so high, so high
Me and you were so high
High, high, high

Now you're fading from me
Into the blue light of our love
But how're you gonna let love in?
When, baby, you were so high
How're you gonna let go this time?
Don't give in to the night
Oh, don't give in, don't give in

It was just as we were
So high, so high, so high
Me and you were so high
High, high, high
Me and you were so high
(You can try so hard
But you're never gonna find the thing you love
You won't stop the the time
It's twenty-five minutes to leave)

But at night
(So high, so high, so high)
But at night
(So high, so high, so high)
But at night
(So high, so high, so high)
At night
(So high, so high, so high)
