

Tick Tock

Jack Savoretti

Tick tock, time has got its hands on me
And all of its infinity, now is where I'm meant to be
Tick tock, life has got the best of me
And all of its insanity, all that matters comes for free

Thoughts are but an endless sea
The tide that brings back hope to me
I'm tired but I don't ever want to sleep

Let yourself be found or no one will ever find you
Say the words out loud, so everyone can hear
Say the words, say the words that mean something to you
Or don't say anything at all

Shine bright like an after glow
Show the world what you want to show
And when it all moves too fast
You can go slow
Find out what you want to know
You can go where you want to go
And if it all gets too much
You can let go

Thoughts are but an endless sea
The tide that brings back hope to me
I'm tired but I don't ever want to sleep

Let yourself be found or no one ever will ever find you
Say the words out loud, so everyone can hear
Say the words, say the words that mean something to you
Or don't say anything at all

Let yourself be found or no one ever will find you
Say the words out loud, so everyone can hear
Say the words, say the words that mean something to you
Or don't say anything at all

Tick tock, time has got its hands on me
And all of its infinity, now is where I'm meant to be
