

Bald Rainbow

Jack Stauber

Hey, it's Barry calling your number, just earlier today
Uh, check for a [?]

What if it all fell down on our heads?
We wouldn't know 'till we got out of bed
What if the roof fell into our hands?
We'd have to rearrange our plans

(Oh, the magic!)

Oh, the panicked glances, all the worried glances, all the look ing glances, looking around

(Oh, the magic!)

All the children running around without their hands
But, still, I must admit, it's the best we're ever gonna get
I haven't heard a siren in a while (Hey, the rain's going back up!)

Lest we forget, we choose what we regret
(I should've been there more than I say)
Lest we forget, we choose what we regret
(Nevermind)

(Ride and die)
