

Going Back Again

Jack Wagner

Open up your eyes
Tell me what you see
Is there a place for me
Inside of you
Can we both forgive
Try to just forget
Forget the past
And let the day begin

I'm going back again
I'll take it to the end
Remember where we've been
And where we have to go
Take a look around
Look at what we've found
I know that we can be
What we want to be
I'm going back again

Every other day
I think of what to say
But the words
The words are just a part of it
I run into the walls
And then I see it all
And I dance alone
As I think of you

I'm going back again
I'll take it to the end
Remember where we've been
And where we have to go
Take a look around
Look at what we've found
I know that we can be
What we want to be
I'm going back again

I see the story in your eyes
And we can never say goodbye
I wanna show you, show me
Come on, and show me

Take a look around
Look at what we've found
I know that we can be
What we want to be
I'm going back again
I'm going back again
I'm going back again
