

My Baby

Jackopierce

"My baby don't love me anymore
She's tallied up the tickets and
She's laid out the score
My baby don't love me anymore
I used to come in the front entrance
Now I'm getting kicked out the back door

It seemed my summer was going fine
I was drinking dirty water
But it tasted like good red wine
While the minutes and hours turned into days
But I found my hopes and principles
Wrapped up in an insecure-tight haze

My baby don't love me anymore
She's tallied up the tickets and
She's laid out the score
My baby don't love me anymore
What used to be good loving
Turned into just another chore

And I find myself seeking shade
From the glow of insecurity
But it still seemed to pervade
It seemed my lifetime had gone away
Now it seems that unsatisfactory
Is a place I'm gonna stay because
My baby don't love me no more

And I've tried to see far in her mind
That she's my final glory day
But maybe her decision
Matched with my disposition
Doesn't seem that she's no more
Comin my way

Cause my baby don't love me no more
She's tallied up the tickets and
She's laid out the score
My baby don't love me no more
What seemed like a string of nice notes
Turned into just an evil chord

My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
No more no more no more

My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
My baby don't love me no more
No more no more no more

My baby don't love me no more"
