

Unloved

Jackson Browne

There will be no consolation prize this time the bone is broken clean no baptism, no reprise and no sweet taste of victory
All the stars have fallen from the sky
And everything else in between Satellites have closed their eyes
The moon has gone to sleep
Unloved... unloved... unloved... unloved...

Here I am inside a hotel
Choking on a million words I said
Cigarettes have burned a hole
And dreams are drunk and penniless
Here I am inside my father's arms
All jagged bone and whisky dry
Whisper to me sweetly now and tell me I will never die
Unloved... unloved... unloved... unloved

Here I am an empty hallway broken window, rainy night
I am nineteen sixty-two and I am ready for a fight
People crying hallelujah
While the bullet leaves the gun
People falling, falling, falling
And I don't know where they're falling from
Unloved... unloved... unloved... unloved

Hoping that the kindness will lead us Past the blindness and
Not another living soul
Will ever have to feel
Unloved... unloved... unloved... unloved
Unloved... unloved...
