

Another Century

Jackson Dean

I've seen the stars fall
I've seen the trees and some young-uns grow tall
I've seen a snowstorm roll on a Vegas night
Seen a rodeo clown knocked flat out in a bar fight
Yes. I did

I've seen a man of the cloth speak in tongues out of rage
But I won't see another century in this cage

We love so hard while we're here
'Cause you just can't forget that one day we all disappear
Yeah. I was born the dawn of this age
But I won't see another century in this cage

I've seen an ace come from the bottom of the deck
I've seen an eighteen-wheeler two truck. A fatal wreck
I've seen a doe take her last breath
Had me my first love naked in my bed

We love so hard while we're here
'Cause you just can't forget that one day we all disappear
Yeah. I was born the dawn of this age
But I won't see another century in this cage

We love so hard while we're here
'Cause you just can't forget that one day we all disappear
Yeah. I was born the dawn of this age
But I won't see another century in this cage

In this cage
