Dear Simone

Jacob Banks

Dear simone, I'm all alone,
And I need you here, to wipe my tears away
Dear simone, where have you been?
Cause I need you near, cause I'm drowning in my fear
So I'm driving down this road,
With no place, no place to go
Nothing but memories,
Only you and I, only you and I will ever know
Tears falling down my face,
Used to be tears of joy,
You took my lovin away,

Oh, dear simone, I'm all alone
And I need you here,
To wipe my tears away
Dear simone, where have you been?
Cause I need you near, cause I'm drowning in my fear
Paying the falls in my end
The soul is mend, here I stand for you baby
What's in life pass me by
Only if you were by my side
I tried everything I should
I gave everything I could to you baby
Pouring my words up to the sky
Oh, I'm not gonna say goodbye
So if you ever change your mind up baby
Just call me, call me babe, call me to you darling
I've waiting, waiting, waiting for you, for you, my baby

Waiting for you, I'm all alone,
And I need you here,
To wipe my fucking tears away
Dear simone, where have you been?
Man I need you near, because I'm drownin in my fuckin fears
Dear simone, I'm all alone,
And I need you here,
To wipe my fucking tears away
Dear simone, where have you been?
Oh I need you here
To wipe my fucking tear away.
