

Just When I Thought

Jacob Banks

We're trading silence
Do you believe in faith or science?
I don't mind the sirens
'Cause at least it brings me guidance

I still believe in us
I still wanna call it love
But I guess this is what we've become
And you won't put down your smoking gun

Just when I thought you were ready for me
Kingdoms of the heavens falling
Just when I thought you were ready for me
Thunder and the rain is pouring

Just when I thought you were ready for me
Kingdoms of the heavens falling
Just when I thought you were ready for me
Thunder and the rain is pouring

Don't tell me where we're goin', ooh
Doing ninety in the moment
And I'm holding my condolence
Till we're swallowed in the ocean

I still believe in us
I still wanna call it love
But I guess this is what we've become
And you won't put down your smoking gun

Just when I thought you were ready for me
Kingdoms of the heavens falling
Just when I thought you were ready for me
Thunder and the rain is pouring

Just when I thought you were ready for me
Kingdoms of the heavens falling
Just when I thought you were ready for me
Thunder and the rain is pouring

Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready for me, for me
Well, well, well
Ready for, for me, for me

Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready
Just when I thought you were ready for me, for me

Ready for, for me
For me
Oh, ready for, for me

For me
Ready for, for me
For me
