

Don't You Know

Jacob Collier

Stick and stones
I won't hide from you no more
And in time
I find what I've been searching for
Heard your voice
Calling out to me
I'm on my way
To where I can be free

And if she won't wait for me, do it right, don't look back
Keep my heart on the future
On the soles of my shoes all the places I've been
That I've known since I knew her

'Cause it's you, don't you know
That you're making me guess
That you're the one for me
That it's you that I guess
That I wanted to know all along
Girl, it's you that I want
That makes me complete
Cause you're the one for me
It's thanks to you that I guess
That I want you to know I belong

Every time
I lose my feeling true
I'll still work
To lead me back to you
In my dreams
I'm calling out your name, yeah
You're my beacon
Burning like a flame, yeah

But as I fly on my wings through the night, don't look back
Now I don't wanna lose her
In the sky, all the sounds of the night, now I know
That I couldn't refuse her

'Cause it's you, don't you know
That you're making me guess
That you're the one for me
That it's you that I guess
That I wanted to know all along
Girl, it's you that I want
That makes me complete
Cause you're the one for me
It's thanks to you that I guess
That I want you to know I belong

Up above
The universe aglow
And the world
Is turning down below
Through the day and
Through the coldest night
Light my way

Give me strength to burn bright

Now take me up to the sky, off my mind
Far away from the heavens below me
Make the storm in my soul
Give me strength in my bones
Now you're comin' to save me

'Cause it's you, don't you know
That it's you that I guess
That I wanted to know all along
Girl, it's you that I want
That makes me complete
That I want you to know I belong
