

Antidote

Jacob Lee

(Seven days a week, I need the antidote)
(You already know)
(Seven days a week, I needa let it go)
(Don't miss your shot, 'cause I don't hesitate)

Seven days a week, I need the antidote
Cover me in acetone
I don't need a light to make this flammable
Mera Mera no mi, I'm intangible
Don't miss your shot, 'cause I don't hesitate

What?!
Must be confident to treat me like that
I can tell you overcompensate (ah)
Dude, you're making me laugh

Stop
Telling me that there are things that I lack
While you butter up your protege (ah)
You must know you're outclassed

Seven days a week, I need the antidote
Cover me in acetone
I don't need a light to make this flammable
Mera Mera no mi, I'm intangible
Don't miss your shot, 'cause I don't hesitate

I'm coming up if you like it or not
This animosity
Wasn't within us when we took up art
I can't believe that we bought the facade
Now every artist is falling apart
And you know why
You are the reason we sleep in our cars
You made us defensive, we put up our guard
Go on deny your complete incoherence
We know you know it's a bluff
I think it's time that we huff and we puff
Blow it all down, 'cause enough is enough
God damn, we would rather stay unknown
Then willingly enter a fucking mistake
With promises that you will never bestow

Seven days a week, I need the antidote
Cover me in acetone
I don't need a light to make this flammable
Mera Mera no mi, I'm intangible
Don't miss your shot, 'cause I don't hesitate

(I don't need a light to make this flammable)
(Don't miss your shot, 'cause I don't hesitate)
