

Never Needed You

Jacob Lee

All my life I've been anxiously waiting for someone
To pull me away from here
Help me to disappear
How should I know what to do when you're not here?
I waited patiently
You never came for me

So cut off my breath
Empty my lungs
Hollow my chest
Salvage my heart
Bury whats left
If you love me to death

There is someone waiting for me down below
I would rather leave him unprovoked
I don't believe I belong here, but
There is nowhere else for me that I can go
I have been learning to levitate
Head and heart I've been trying to separate
They keep telling me that I should meditate
Have you ever seen a demon meditate? (Yeah)
Alright
Leave me in darkness
My eyes adjusted, now I'm kinda nauseous (Yeah)
Alright
Knock me unconscious
'Cause I'm too awake for my own good, I promise

I never thought that I'd say this
But I never needed you
Convince myself that I'm wise when I say that I never needed you

So give me one more chance
I've been wrong before, so I could be that way again
Don't you ever ask me what it's like to lose a friend
I have issues to process, but that doesn't matter to them

There is someone waiting for me down below
I would rather leave him unprovoked
I don't believe I belong here, but
There is nowhere else for me that I can go
I have been learning to levitate
Head and heart I've been trying to separate
They keep telling me that I should meditate
Have you ever seen a demon meditate? (Yeah yeah)
Alright
Fuck being honest
I tried the truth but you never responded (Yeah)
Alright
Knock me unconscious
'Cause I'm too awake for my own good, I promise

So fed up
So annoyed at feeling
Like I am not quite enough

Everyone is faking
You know it as well as us
Who do I depend on
When I don't know who to trust
I don't know who to trust, yeah
(I just care too much)
I don't know who to trust, I don't know who to trust, yeah
(I just care too much)
I don't know who to trust, I don't know who to trust, yeah

There is someone waiting for me down below
Not a human, angel or a ghost
I don't believe I belong here but
I'm afraid I may have cut it way too close
I have been learning to levitate
Head and heart I've been trying to separate
They keep telling me I should just meditate
Have you ever seen a demon meditate? (Yeah yeah)
Alright
Leave me in darkness
My eyes adjusted, now I seem neurotic (Yeah)
Alright
Knock me unconscious
'Cause I'm too awake for my own good, I promise
