

Beneath the Shadows

Jacobs Dream

Behind these walls
Underneath the stranger I'd become
There was a glimmer of light
The hope to change my destiny

After the fall of all I'd known
My true reflections had shown
No way to change what could have been Bow to the devil I let in

It's twisting inside me
What was meant to be

Beneath the shadows of my soul
My wings are broken
So many chances passed me by
With words never spoken

At last I found the strength
Just enough to raise my head
Don't want to live this lie anymore
At last my demons are dead

It's twisting inside me
Like I'd never known before

Beneath the shadows of my soul
My wings now unbroken
A new destiny alive
With words I have spoken

The scars from my past
Now they seem so distant
A curse lifted from me
My spirit set free
Cleansed in blood and fire
As a voice in the distance
Is drawing near
As it speaks to me

I rose to my feet
As the chills run down my spine
I know that I deserve to die
And yet I feel so alive

So I will rise anew
And I will say never again
The hell I thought would always last
Is now a thing of the past

Beneath the shadows of my soul
My wings now unbroken
A new destiny alive
With words I have spoken

It's twisting inside me
Like I'd never know before

Beneath the shadows of my soul
My wings now unbroken
Now the healing begins
With words I have spoken

Beneath the shadow (there was hope all along)