

Minds Will Burn

Jacobs Dream

Making a living spreading my disease
I can tell you that business is good
Killing the innocence with my addictions
My prominence understood
I've got it all, your companions to die for
I'll sell you a piece of my pain
It will clear your mind
Cleanse you of your conscience
In the end you'll have nothing to gain

Forgotten faces with nowhere to turn
I'll see to it their minds will burn
I've got your fix, your crucifix
Your destiny of illusion
No mercy for the wise, time to close your eyes
Your journey of hell awaits
Now is the time for you to taste
As you watch your life go to waste

Minds will burn
And lives are torn
Minds will burn
And lives are torn

It's all or nothing in this game I play
I will win at the end of the day
Lies are spoken and lives become broken
And this is the price you will pay
Now just look into my eyes
You believe the lies
As your journey of hell awaits
Now is the time that you will fall
You'll beg at my feet as you crawl