

One More Time

Jacquees

I wish could hear your voice one more time
Grandma what you did for us will always be on our minds
You see you weren't just an educator
You taught us how to live and reach for our goals without the pressure of being without hope

Uh,
Wish I could hear your voice one more time
(Wish I could hear you)
Wish I could hug on you one more time
(One more time)
I wish God could open heaven gates so I could see your face one more time
'Cause I'm lost without you
Can you give me a sign?

Miss them old days in East Atlanta
When I used to see my Grandma
Coming home to soul food and Price Is Right up on the channel
Miss the wisdom you was giving
Miss the kisses you would give me
And for all them times I didn't answer your calls, forgive me
Prayed for me every single night I wasn't in the city
'Cause you know I got demons 'round me and people out to get me
All the late nights I cried knowing I won't see your smile
I'm missing you

Wish I could hear your voice one more time
(One more time)
Wish I could hug on you one more time
(One more time)
I wish God could open heaven gates so I could see your face one more time
'Cause I'm lost without you
Can you give me a sign?

Yeah, man I miss my dogs in the pound
And man I miss my homies they done put up in the ground
Got to keep the real ones 'round 'cause loyalty hard to find
The streets is crazy I pray for them all the time
Unk told me mind your business stack your paper and live your life
And watch out for the ones who moving iffy don't be blind
And give the ones you love they flowers now
'Cause tomorrow ain't promised they won't always be around
I wish

Wish I could hear your voice one more time
(One more time, yeah)
Wish I could hug on you one more time
(One more, one more)
I wish God could open heaven gates so I could see your face one more time
'Cause I'm lost without you
Can you give me a sign?

Give me a sign

We miss those days when we didn't have nothing to look forward to
But when your essence would join the room, the room would bloom, and we knew we'd make it through

You see Grandma it was more than just your kiss your love and your hug
It was that joy you still shower on us from above
We could never erase you we could never replace you
We spend all of our days just wanting to embrace you
One more time
The pressures of every day are easy because of what you instilled in me
Uh,
People try to rob me and steal my essence but
They don't understand what I stand on and believe
See, you taught us how to roll with respect
It was never complicated you made it plain
Uh,
Grandma because of who you were and whose you were
We miss you

Nobody can take your place
Grandma you were a real one
(Said I miss you Grandma)
Nobody can take your place
(Yes, I do)
Grandma you were a real one
Nobody can take your place
Grandma you were a real one
Nobody can take your place
Grandma you were a real one
Nobody can take your place
Grandma you were a real one
