

Breaking The Grey

Jade Bird

Could be a phase
A sign of my age
My colours turning
From light to shade and
I couldn't wish these blues away
Time's on our shoulders all over again

You can't change
The dark into day
You can't wish this feeling away
Secrets will always try to escape
I finally feel like I am breaking the grey

Could be a sigh
Or the look on your face
As you hold me close
Though feelings have changed
I'm not looking for answers
And your questions remain
I'm the ghost in all your yesterdays

You can't change
The dark into day
You can't wish this feeling away
Secrets will always try to escape
I finally feel like I am breaking the grey

I don't wanna stay
Just to walk away
I just called to say
That I'm breaking the grey
I don't wanna leave you
I don't wanna wake up with the moon
One of us has to make a move
And we have to do it soon

I don't wanna stay
Just to walk away
I just called to say
That I'm breaking the grey
I don't wanna leave you
I don't wanna wake up with the moon
Honey I hope you're okay

Could be a sigh
Or the look on your face
As you hold me close
Though feelings have changed
I'm not looking for answers
Your questions remain
I'm the ghost in all your yesterdays

Oh, you can't change
The dark into day
And you can't wish the feelings away
Secrets will always try to escape

I finally feel like I'm breaking the grey
