

Gold

Jade Bird

I thought that we were different
Put us on a pedestal
So when I found out that we weren't
Making any sense at all
Imagine my surprise, our search for reasons why
Waiting for the answers to fall outta the sky

Oh, I thought that we were gold
And that we had it all
But we weren't so untouchable
Instead, now I come into your bed
And stay inside your head
When did you forget
We were meant to go
We were meant to go

I thought I made it clear
We had years ahead of us
All of our friends here
Could never understand the fuss
But I did so I gave them up
And so, we became dangerous
Now I sit tryna create so much
How I wish I just gave it up, gave it up

Oh, I thought that we were gold
And that we had it all
But we weren't so untouchable
Instead, now I come into your bed
And stay inside your head
When did you forget
We were meant to go
We were meant to go

Scars gone away
I begged for you to stay
And your eyes began to fade
Away-ay-ay, away-ay-ay
Away-ay-ay, away-ay-ay
Away-ay-ay, away-ay-ay
Away-ay-ay, away-ay-ay

Oh, I thought that we were gold
And that we had it all
But we weren't so untouchable
Instead, now I come into your bed
And stay inside your head
When did you forget
We were meant to go
We were meant to go
We were meant to go
We were meant to go