

Put my heart in quarantine to try and analyze
What it is that forces me to love the prototype
Of the first devoted, leave in the night guy
Put my head into a dream to walk through the moves I make
To see what it is that forces me for a clear mistake
You're a love-phobic, leave by the first light
I did it over and over till you walked into my life

Oh, things got better the moment I fell
When I wasn't looking, it all stood still
I know with these things you can't always tell
But I love you, and I think I always will

Put my high security and my satellites
From a high warning to a standby
And unless I am controlling, the more that's going right
It's like waiting for a meteor in the morning sky
If I see it for a minute, oh it was worth the ride

Oh, things got better the moment I fell
When I wasn't looking, it all stood still
I know with these things you can't always tell
But I love you, and I think I always will

Oh, there is no shortcut from pain
Maybe this is our lucky break
But I'd do it all over again
And at the risk of sounding awful cliché

Oh, things got better the moment I fell
When I wasn't looking, it all stood still
I know with these things you can't always tell
But I love you, and I think I always will

I love you, and I think I always will
