

The Birth Of SYRE

Jaden Smith

I don't know if you're home
Sure, you know I'm all alone
Time has come, birds have sung
I can be your number one

Another bottle of wine
You and me just want to fly away
Spend every night and day
In your warm embrace
Sun is kissing your face
Baby girl, I'm sorry that it ended that way
I just hope you have faith
And I see you happy
And you're happy

I'm on my way now, girl, but nobody's home
All alone just sitting in my room
In the Hills, I ain't got shit to do
Truth is I'm thinking of you

That was the legend of Wavey Baby
And this may have been a MSFT prankster
Frozen heart left in the snow
My stomach was bleeding when I fell in the road
'Cause now she's leaving home like Melanie Co

Those diamonds won't shine when it's dark, I'm just letting you know
And you can miss me with that whole "J, no it's forever ago shit
'Cause I know if anyone knows
The street got cold that day when we rolled up
Dumb indecisions they set in stone
All times flash passed eyes, aw, you've grown
Day you took me to your room alone
And told me you had to move on

She won't love me
So I'll bleed
In a Hell
