

False Messiah

Jag Panzer

Was it written in the book that all would come To bring PEACE and JOY to the land Speaking in tongues that all would know The day of judgement had begun Follow me said the stranger I'm the shepherd oh can't you see ? This kingdom is yours. Eternity awaits But first you must come to me Oh beware You can never tell Oh beware Of the false messiah's return In the final days three lights will shine In the east and then be gone And the lamb and the beast will join the host As the day becomes the night The dead will rise, the blind will see And the lame will walk again
