

Beyond the Horizon

Jake Bugg

I hear you now telling stories about different times
Your great adventures
You made them so real
The good and the bad
All the life that you had
Like a movie
That lives in my mind
You changed how I feel

I look to the sky
I see the sun go down into the night
But you opened my eyes
And showed me a life so bright beyond the horizon

We talked 'til it's light
'Bout the world left outside
And its secrets
Between these walls
You told me them all
Like a sound calling from heaven
So clear

I look to the sky
I see the sun go down into the night
But you opened my eyes
And showed me a life so bright beyond the horizon

I'll see you again
In wide open space
And we'll drift away, we'll drift away

I look to the sky
I see the sun go down into the night
But you opened my eyes
And showed me a life so bright beyond the horizon
And showed me a life so bright beyond the horizon
